Claims Rejected

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, “the same engine shaft” is confusing since it’s not clear if applicant intends that there is another engine shaft also. Further, “the preceding shaft” lacks an antecedent and it appears that applicant intended “the engine shaft” or some such description instead. Finally, “the body” lacks an antecedent.

In claim 3, “(or more)” is informal and confusing because it isn’t clear if applicant is positively reciting more than a pair of bearings.

In claim 7, “it” lacks a proper object; “of housing (5)” is improper because applicant may not rely on drawing reference numerals to define the limitations of his claims.

In claim 8, “the support” lacks an antecedent.

In claim 9, “it” lacks a proper object, “the housing” lacks an antecedent, “to shaft (3)” is improper because applicant may not rely on drawing reference numeral to define the limitations of his claims; “the propeller” lacks an antecedent; and “said clutch engagement systems” lacks an antecedent.

In claim 10, “it” lacks a proper object.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3681

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mansson '863. Mansson shows a forward and reverse drive train for a boat propeller in figure 4 wherein an engine shaft carries a pair of drive bevel gears which each drive a single output bevel gear, wherein each of the drive bevel gears includes a fluid actuated multi-disc clutch 13 and 14, each of the clutches being provided with pressurized fluid by conduits formed in the engine shaft 2, and a plurality of bearings are provided to support bevel gears and the clutches. The clutches are each contained within an enclosed housing that is part of the bevel gears.

Prior Art Discussed

The references cited by the examiner are deemed pertinent to applicant's disclosure. They all show forward/reverse bevel gear drives, but none appear to show all of the features of applicant's claimed combination.
